Padre's Portion.... I came across an article from 2006 that I found some interesting facts then and now once again.

*Fred Astaire the dream dance of my Mom and her generation after an audition received the following evaluation: "Can't act, slightly bald. Can dance a little,"

*Winston Churchill failed 6th grade and he was elected Prime Minister till he was 62 and then only after several setbacks and disappointments."

*Walt Disney was fired by a newspaper editor because he lacked ideas and imagination. He went bankrupt several time before Disneyland."

*Michael Jordan was cut from his high school basketball team."

*And finally -- a newspaper sports expert said this man possessed minimal football knowledge and lacked motivation. Who? Vince Lombardi.

I could come across a whole collections of irony like this. What fascinates me as I read about them is they did not allow anyone or anything to deter them from achieving their purpose toward which they had dedicated their lives and energies. So why do I find this so interesting. This weekend's Scriptures are about 3 over achievers who offered resistance (shall we say, excuses) to the call of Jesus to go out and spread the Good News. We will talk about it more this weekend.

However, I read recently a challenge that has really stuck with me to share with you. In fact, I shared it with my morning Mass group. When we're looking for an excuse not to do something on a weekend or even a Sunday, what if we said, "I'm sorry but I can't go (wherever it may be) because I have to go to Church." Or I can't go to this game or party, because I am helping out at Church. Another gentleman said that the first thing that he does when he checks into a hotel on vacation, is find the Church and the Sunday Mass times. I hope this sticks with you. How many excuses have I made?

God Bless,

F B

Check out the flyer in the back of church for more details. More information will be coming.

The National Eucharistic Congress beginning next Wednesday

The American Church faces a crisis of faith, with belief in the Real Presence at an all-time low. Our bishops have launched a Eucharistic Revival, culminating in the National Eucharistic Congress. The Congress' Executive Director shares insights on this movement to reignite faith and unity. Discover how Catholics can get involved in restoring hope and foundational beliefs.
